

Cleveland Wins Final Game of Series from Nationals in Tenth Inning

Minneapolis' Star Player Comes to the Nationals

Morley Jennings Is Said to Be Ripe for Fast Company. Due for Another Trial.

OTHER SPORT COMMENT

Griffen Idle in Detroit Today—Harper to Face Tigers in First Game Tomorrow.

By WILLIAM PEET.
One ball player slated for another trial with the Griffins and who will be in Charlottesville for spring training next March is Morley Jennings, or Bill Morley, as he was known to the fans here in 1913.

Jennings, according to experts, is just about ready for fast company, and it is predicted for him that he can make good at shortstop or second base with any major league ball club doing business.

At present Jennings is playing shortstop for Joe Pantillon's Minneapolis team. He is the property of the Washington club, sold to Minneapolis under the optional agreement.

Not only is Jennings playing fine ball, but he is hitting the ball hard, and he is driving going for extra bases.

In an attempt to add batting strength to his 1915 aggregation, Griffen will try out during the spring Morley Jennings and Joe Gordon, both of whom are under the option of the Washington club, and the so-called regulars have their work cut out for them when this time arrives.

Jennings was with the Griffins in Charlottesville during the spring of 1913, and his work was impressive during the exhibition games. Figuring that he needed more experience, Griffen sent Jennings to the Hartford club, of the Eastern Association. Last year Jennings played for the Hartford club, and he was one of the best players of the season with Minneapolis. The youngster has steadily improved and right now is regarded as one of the best in the American Association.

Joe Gordon is also playing fine ball for the Salt Lake City club, of the Pacific Coast League, and he too will be with the Griffins next spring.

According to the American League schedule the Nationals have an off day today, leaving in Detroit, but tomorrow will start the final series of the present Western invasion against the Griffins, fast traveling Tigers.

Harry Harper, who has just rejoined his old team, is slated to pitch against the Tigers tomorrow.

Several fans have asked what has become of Larry McLaughlin, since he was released by the Baltimore Orioles. McLaughlin is now playing with the Buffalo Stars, according to reports for that team. While McLaughlin is not a star, he is a good player, and he is doing well.

Greene Alexander, the Philadelphia Nationals' leading pitcher, promises to complete a record this season equaling in interest. Moore, Wagner's hundred home runs. If he maintains his record, Alexander would round out 1915 with a record of 100 home runs.

This dispatch from St. Louis is interesting, also important if true. "Yes, I've been over to see the Cardinals, and I've watched the Cardinals' 'foot' this year," says Fielder Jones, "and of the two the St. Louis Cardinals are by far the better group of players. The Browns are a much superior lot, but not so well managed as the Cardinals. That's why they're down where they are."

OTHER NATIONAL GAMES

Philadelphia, July 20.—The Philadelphia Nationals won an exciting game from the Chicago Cubs today, 6 to 5. The game was tied up, 2 to 2, when the eighth inning started, and the Cubs scored three runs on a single, a double, a pass, a sacrifice fly, and another single. The Phils came back in their half and knocked out six runs on two passes, two errors, two singles, and Niehoff's triple.

The Cubs used Zabel, Pierce, and Cheney in the eighth, and the Phils used Lavender, who started to pitch for the Cubs, held the Phils without a hit for the first five innings, when they scored two in the sixth.

The Dumbarton players were given a rating by the tennis committee last Saturday. Gore heading the list by reason of his excellent work in previous matches, while Hillyer was given second place.

The rules of the club provide that any player in class A may challenge any player in the same class for his position on the team, and that any player in any class below A may challenge the last player in any class above him.

As is natural, the rules have stirred up much interest in tennis at the Georgetown club, and have been the cause of several challenges from one player to another.

Cards Trim Giants.
New York, July 20.—With the aid of two infield plays and Long's home run in the sixth inning, the Cardinals were able to defeat the Giants, 3 to 1. Griner, who had pitched shut-out until the ninth, weakened and was relieved by Salter, who pitched full and no one out. Salter retired the side with but one run being scored.

No-hit Game for Caskey.
Green City, N. J., July 20.—Caskey pitched a no-hit game for Green City yesterday, Logan A. A. Bolen played a great game in the field. Vineland will play here today.

KID MAYO IS KILLED.
Johnny De Mayo, known in the local pugilistic circles as Kid Mayo, was accidentally killed last Saturday evening in Ann Arbor, Mich., by coming in contact with a live electric wire.

De Mayo was a feather-weight fighter and had been the amateur title of the State of Connecticut. He attended the Georgetown Law School here and was under instruction of Prof. Joseph Batesman, of the Hilltoppers.

De Mayo was traveling with Joe Turner's Athletic Carnival and was meeting all comers with the padded mits. He had been making quite a record and gave promise of climbing to the top of the heap in his class.

LOCAL FANS WILL ATTEND TITLE BOUT

Baltimore, July 20.—Washington fight fans are greatly interested in the pugilistic exhibition to be given in Baltimore at Terrapin Park next Saturday afternoon, with Kid Williams appearing in a championship contest against Jimmy Taylor, of New York.

If the inquiries concerning the match which have been received from the Capital are any criterion, in the days when Kid Sullivan was appearing star bouts in Baltimore, Washington was always well represented, but since then the visitors from there to Baltimore fight events have been few in numbers.

This event promises to be a big exception. For the well-known Washington referee and sportsman, is authority for the statement that at least 200 Washingtonians will make the trip over next Saturday afternoon.

With team cars, electric lines, auto buses and fine roads for private machines all at hand, it is much like running down town for the average Washingtonian to make the trip to the Monumental City.

A Washington boy will appear in one of the six-rounders to be put on. He is Kid Greek, who has been bowling along in good style. He meets Battling Kelley, of Brooklyn, the best of the local light-weights. Young McGovern and Johnny Cummings will also step over the six-round route. These boys are the best pair of feather-weights in local preliminary circles. A three-round affair between Kid Stephens and Rough-house Nelson will start things going.

WILLIE HOUCK FIRST TO HALT KILBANE

Lowe's Opponent Hands Cleveland Boxer Setback as Light-weight Fighter.

Johnny Kilbane, the feather-weight champion of the world, last winter was filled with the ambition of a Terry McGovern—that is, of holding two belts, crowns at one time, but it is now an ancient history as to how his battles as a light-weight failed to impress the East, and he is now a feather-weight.

The Philadelphia fighter is of the swinging, punching style and is born in at all times. But few of the top-notch fighters have been able to stand up before this style of battling, as he is capable of judge of distance and can deliver a terrific wallop with either hand. Local followers of the sport who keep in close touch with the game are having quite a time figuring out what chance the local veteran will have with Houck in fifteen rounds.

The "Slumber Town" light-weight has fought in a few ten and fifteen round battles, but most of his fighting, which goes back over five years, was in six-round affairs at the Philadelphia club.

After a few rounds of the game, he always faithful in his training and generally a good judge of the ability of his opponent. At present in the sport, Kilbane is the favorite, but he will not be surprised to see the Philadelphia boy carrying the top money at the ringside.

Arrangements for the semi-windup will be made today and the final details closed on the primaries.

The players who will take part in the interclub tennis match Saturday between Dumbarton and Columbia were named last night by the captains of the respective clubs.

Capt. "Connie" Doyle, of Columbia, is not certain as to just which of his men will be paired in the doubles, but the team will be composed of C. B. and H. E. Doyle, C. A. Slater, Norris McLean, A. J. Leech, Jr., Charles Chapman, F. J. Bates, and Herbert T. Shannon.

Dumbarton will depend on Douglas Hillyer, Albert J. Gore, Al Howard, George Lewis, Capt. Hancock, Gould Lincoln, C. N. Noetzel, and L. A. Fischer in the singles, and Gore and Lincoln, Howard and Fischer, Hillyer and Lewis, and Hancock and Noetzel in the doubles.

The matches will be played on the Dumbarton courts at 3 o'clock.

WESTON LOSES IN HOME CLUB TOURNEY

Despite the rain yesterday, two important matches were disposed of in the tennis tournament of the Home Club which is being run off on the court back of the club.

O. G. Cowick, of the Reclamation Service, won in straight sets from G. K. Weston, manager of the club, 6-0, 6-2, in the preliminary round, while B. L. Padgett, of the Bureau of Mines, defeated W. B. Hill, of the Bureau of Education, 6-1, 6-2, in the first round.

The schedule for today is as follows: C. N. McCulloch, of Reclamation, vs. A. J. Hendley, Bureau of Mines; Dr. E. J. Kempf, Government Hospital for the Insane, vs. C. P. Knapp, of Reclamation; H. Goldman, of Geological Survey, vs. E. Thompson, of Patent Office, and E. Weikert, of Patent Office, vs. John Joy Reinhardt, of the Secretary's Office.

Mackinac Island, Mich., July 20.—The seven yachts participating in the annual race from Chicago to Mackinac Island are expected to finish today. The boats left Chicago Saturday afternoon and have encountered head winds on the lake.

The captain of the Goodrich Inc. George arrived late today and reported "No yachts in sight between Chicago and Mackinac Island." The race was postponed for 24 hours because of the weather.

Tennis Title for Hunter.
New York, July 20.—The annual championship tournament of Western country tennis yesterday on the clay courts of the Whitney Country Club, near Montauk, was won by E. Hunter, of Cornell, and Abraham Stanford, Jr., of the County Tennis Club, of Westchester, defeated William B. Burt, of the County Tennis Club, and brother R. C. Rand, in the final round for the men's doubles title in three straight sets 6-1, 6-4, 6-4. The event resulted in a conclusive tie-break for the 20th title was made in 1911 by Dr. Baum's Amoria.

Jim Shaw Is Pounded Hard. Boehling in Long Enough to Lose.

TEN INNINGS REQUIRED

Nationals' Lead Is Cut Down in Ninth, When Kirke Rams Out Timely Single.

By CHARLES W. SWAN.
Sporting Department, Cleveland Leader.

Cleveland, July 20.—If Jim Shaw had remembered that Jay Kirke has hit a fast ball each of the four preceding times up, the Nationals would have made it seven straight wins today, but Jim had a lapse of memory, and Jay Kirke slammed the fifth fast ball on a line to the outfield, scoring Eschen with the tying run. Then Joseph Boehling went to the hill and the Indians won the tenth, 5 to 4, when O'Neill tripled with Wamby on first.

Shaw was hit hard throughout the game, he was pounded for 12 blows in nine innings, while Boehling yielded 2 hits, and the game, in the one session he told.

The Indians presented a rejuvenated appearance, Boss Fohl must have said a few cutting remarks for the men played with more life than has been shown for the past month.

On the other hand, the Nationals were unable to hit Jim Walker, who has proven easy for the other American League clubs, while Rip Hagerman, who hurled the tenth for the last placers, was a puzzle. "Rip" has been bumped and pounded until he feels strange if the game is going otherwise and yesterday's showing surprised him more than it did anyone else.

Graney Is Badly Hurt.
Victory was costly to the Indians at last for Jack Graney, one man who has been on his toes and fighting all the time, is out of it for a fortnight at least. Jack's accident came in the first inning when he was trapped between third and second. In making a sharp turn his spikes failed to hold, and the right leg snapped five or six inches above the ankle. It is feared the leg is broken, but it will require an X-ray examination to determine just how serious is the injury.

The Indians jumped on Shaw at the start. Eschen, who went to center in place of Southworth, was an out, but Chapman pumped a single to center, stole and scored on Graney's single to right, Jack getting second on the throw. Kirke shot to Neff and Graney was run down. Jack being injured when his spikes failed to hold as he stopped suddenly and tried to make a sharp turn. When the game was resumed Smith fanned for the third out.

Indians Score Two.
Two more off Shaw in the third. With one down, Chappie singled and took second on Milan's poor return. Ray tried for third on a near passed ball but was choked. Alm-Smith to Neff. Foster's wild throw on Kirke's slow bouncer over Shaw's head scored Southworth and allowed him to reach second. Eschen dropped a single to center, Kirke counting.

The old base on balls brought Walker face to face with trouble in the third. Kirke, who was on first, drew the base on Foster's triple to left. Milan fled to Southworth, who had replaced Graney. Foster holding third, but he scored when Eschen dropped Shanks' sacrifice line drive.

It was a base on balls that led to the Nationals taking the lead in the eighth. Milan, first up, drew the base on Shanks' beat out a bunt. Gandil fled to Southworth, but Milan scored the tying run when Chapman booted Henry's groundout. Southworth made a poor return, Shanks reaching third and Henry second. Williams batted for Neff and poked a grounder to the pitcher, who blocked the ball, but couldn't field it. Shanks scoring, but Henry was out when he tried to follow Howard home.

Cleveland Ties It Up.
Hoffman started the Indians on the road to a tie, when, batting for Walker, he singled to left in the ninth. He was forced by Eschen. Chapman singled to right. Southworth fled out, but Kirke, who was on first, scored. Then Boehling relieved Shaw and Smith bounced to Foster.

Wamby and O'Neill did the work in the tenth. With one down, Wamby singled to center, scoring on O'Neill's triple to left. Score, 5 to 4.
